

Digital Camera Use Form

The University of Alabama Libraries Special Collections

The University of Alabama Libraries Special Collections permits limited patron photography in its Hoole Library and Williams Collection reading rooms. To avoid disrupting other researchers, please take careful note of the following policies. Violation of the digital camera use policy may result in denial of access to materials in The University of Alabama Libraries Special Collections.

We reserve the right to deny requests or revoke the photographic privileges of researchers. Violation of any imaging request policies may result in loss of photographic privileges. We reserve the right to restrict digital camera use for certain materials or collections.

1. Photographs are for reference purposes only and may not be reproduced, used in scholarly or public presentations, shared with others, published, or posted on the web. Images for publication must be requested by submitting a Digitization/Imaging Order form and an Application to Publish form. Fees will apply.
2. Researchers will be provided with an identifying strip to include in each photograph.
3. Only digital cameras or cell phones may be used; clicks and audible alerts must be disabled. No tripods, camera flashes, digital SLRs, or special lighting are permitted. Researchers may not stand on chairs or rearrange furniture to get a better image. Researchers must remain in clear view of the attending staff member and may be asked to move to accommodate this need.
4. All materials must be handled carefully, and a staff member is available to assist you with handling items. Bound volumes must be supported in a book cradle; pressure must not be applied to bindings. Unbound material must remain in its original folder and be kept in original order.
5. The use of reproductions from materials in copyright is for reference purposes only and is subject to fair-use provisions of Title 17, United States Code. The researcher assumes responsibility for any infringement of copyright or any other intellectual property issues associated with the materials photographed.
6. No pictures may be taken of the reading room itself, other researchers, or the staff.
7. It is each researcher's responsibility to keep complete and accurate citations (complete location information) for all items photographed. Subsequent orders for high-resolution images cannot be processed without this information.
